

Ken Rogan

Before joining Kleeneze, I was studying at Newcastle College. Then one day a flyer came through my door. I thought it would be something to do with catalogues.

So, as I was fed up with college, being sent on one course for people with disabilities after another, with promises of a placement or job at the end of it, I thought that I would give it a try.

But with me being in a wheelchair I thought it wouldn't work for me. After 4 weeks of trying it out, following a plan shown to me by my sponsor, I definitely knew it was going to work out, I was making MONEY!!!

Now that I have hit the 10% bonus level, I am working on getting a plan together with my sponsor to get to the next level and hoping next year to qualify for foreign conferences.

I am also contacting people that I know showing them the DVD, as I plan to introduce, (already got 1), and build a team of 10 people by November.

If I can make money from Kleeneze, then any able-bodied person has no excuse!!!
